Security now. Money back later.

Assurity Term Life with Optional Return of Premium

Help financially protect your family with term life insurance and get money back if you outlive the term period.

Protection while you need it

Term life insurance is affordable protection for a set amount of time, or term. If you die during that time, your loved ones receive a cash benefit. Many people choose a term that lasts as long as a large financial obligation, like a mortgage or child's college tuition. You'll pay a set rate during the term, but don't worry — term life is the most affordable type of life insurance.

Money back later

An optional Return of Premium¹ benefit is available for 20 or 30 year term policies. If you outlive your term period, the premiums you paid for the base life insurance and the optional Return of Premium benefit are returned to you. You get the protection of life insurance while you need it, and the money to use later in life if you don't use the policy.

Cash for your future

You can use your returned premium for anything you want. Pay off your car, take a vacation or help fund your retirement.

Find out how much life insurance you need— and how easy it is to apply— by talking to your insurance professional.
